The Duelling Dames

theater+anti bullying+audience interaction =best.show.ever.

The Duelling Dames is live theater with all female swordfighters that teaches history with hilarity, astounds with swordfighting skills, and is daring enough to bring swashbucklers onstage.

Female empowerment? yes! Anti bullying? We've got it! Workshops that disseminate violence in he media? Only the Dames do that!

The Story

The Quinquagenarian Queen and the Puerile Princess argue...about everything. The Queen believes rulers should be like a sword: Possessing a strong hilt. The Princess believes a sharp tip, representing youth, is a better metaphor.

Fighting over how to fight, these loveable characters bring knights onstage, whom they train for minutes and minutes...for a battle that is a hilarious as it is real, for there are no winners.

A delightful tale that both excites families about history while teaching anti violence strategies.
